PROTECT AND GROW REVENUE AND IMPROVE CUSTOMERS' PURCHASING EXPERIENCE WITH OUTSOURCED MANUAL REVIEWS

THE MANUAL REVIEW CHALLENGE

Manual order reviews are an important last line of defense against fraud — and even merchants with sophisticated fraud solutions in place still benefit from having a person review certain suspicious transactions.

However, efficiently resourcing the manual review process can be a huge challenge. Merchants are dealing with an ever-increasing volume of transactions through online channels, with limited tools and data to effectively decision those orders that are flagged for review. Fluctuating order review volumes across peak trading times can also make staff planning difficult, resulting in unpredictable review times and higher false positive rates.

These issues can cause inefficiencies, costs and an impact on customer service. Today's digitally-connected customers expect a seamless experience — and delayed or inaccurate decisions at the point of review can have a costly impact on customer relationships.

AN INTELLIGENT ORDER REVIEW SOLUTION

ACI merchant customers can address this complex challenge through a comprehensive order review solution that blends expert experience with automated research and scoring — for fast, highly accurate results.

Accessed via the Customer Service interface of ACI ReD Shield®, this intelligent order review solution uses robotic process automation to gather and analyze data across previous and linked orders, external fraud data and social networks to calculate a manual order review (MOR) score. Expert analysts then use their experience to review that score and the associated intelligence to make the final decision and approve or reject each order directly on the merchant payments platform.

This combination of automation and human review offers a fast and accurate approach that helps protect customer relationships and mitigate the risk of fraud, chargebacks and false positives.

THE BENEFITS: IMPROVED CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE, REDUCED RISK

Using the specialist capabilities available through this intelligent manual review solution, ACI merchants can efficiently outsource their manual review process to reap significant benefits. The solution can enable merchants to:

- Minimize risk and loss: Improved accuracy and flexible resources help to prevent fraud and chargebacks, even in peak trading periods
- Reduce false positives: Supporting customer relationships by minimizing the volume of genuine orders that are cancelled
- Streamline processes: Faster decisions help minimize friction in the customer experience and prevent delays in order fulfillment.
- Enhance visibility and controls: With real-time productivity and chargeback analytic feedback to help monitor performance

The order review solution is platform-agnostic and integrates seamlessly with ACI ReD Shield to help optimize fraud management performance. Continuous, global, multilingual support is available to accommodate merchant needs wherever and whenever they trade.
